No. 81 Broad street, Newport, R. I.

Miss. Roser, of Savannah, white lace over white satin.
Miss Belden, New York, white lace dress flowers in hair.
Mrs. Post, New York, straw colored silk dress, flounced with black lace, head dress, flowers with diamonds.
Mrs. Hopley, New York, white lace dress trimmed with red ribbons.
Miss Pringle, Charleston, S. C. blue gauze dress, crossed with Garland of flowers.
Miss Winthrop, N. Y. blue satin dress, trimmed with lace, flowered head-dress and diamonds.
Misses Willets, N. Y. pink gauze dress, flounced with silk ribbons, flower head-dress.
Miss G. Berryman, N. Y. dressed in white tulle trimmed with green leaves.
Mrs. Hutton, Paris, dressed in yellow and black lace, with purple flowers and diamonds, very majestic and beautiful.
The Misses Gibbs, N. Y. very modest, refined and dressed in excellent style.
The above is our entire list of ladies. If our time had been less limited, we should undoubtedly have procured many more additions to it. We understand that much of the credit of this splendid entertainment is due to the exertions of Mr. T. T. Hutchins of Baltimore, and Mr. Chadwick of New York, two of the Directors, who with the assistance of Mr. Hazard the proprietor and gentlemanly host of the House, almost entirely arranged the preliminaries.
This ball will be looked back to as the crowning feat of a short but unusually brilliant season.

Slam Americanism.

There is a remarkable difference between the course and conduct of the American party in the State of New York, and that of the same party, or the one bearing the same general designation, in the New England States. Here, almost without exception, the Americans are Anti-Slavery men, earnestly opposed to the further extension of the Slave system, and fully resolved to aid in rescuing the general government from the control of the Slave Power. This great and rightful object is, in the New England States, one of the essential elements of a sound and wholesome Americanism; and as the Republicans are not less thoroughly impressed than their American brethren, with the gross evils resulting to the country from a general introduction of the vice, ignorance and superstition of the Old world, the union of the two parties in the Eastern States has proved both successful and complete.

In New York, as already suggested, the case is widely different. That the Republicans of the Empire State are true, earnest, and self-sacrificing as their brethren in any part of the Union, we see no cause to doubt; that they went through a brilliant and successful engagement, and came off with signal honors in the late Presidential contest, must be admitted by all; but some how, it happened that the leadership of the American party in that State has been thus far in the hands of the most malignant foes of the Republican movement, and the consequence has been an unsparring and unceasing hostility between the parties.

Surveying the field from a calm and clear standpoint, it seems to us that the American party in New York have not acted with any reasonable degree of either patriotism or discretion. They seem to be conservative Old Hunkers, of the "worst kind." Their course toward Fremont was bitter, reckless, and dishonorable. And they have constantly indulged in terms of gross abuse and misrepresentation of the men, measures and objects of the Republican party.

The leaders of this unscrupulous faction, have lately held in Brooklyn what they term an "American State Council," at which the President, (a stolid old Jogy named Jesse C. Lamm,) assured his followers that the Republican movement was "rapidly disintegrating and crumbling to pieces;" (1) and he thought the true course was for his party to "stand firmly by their colors—to enter the contest this fall as a purely American party, and keep clear of all entangling alliances," &c. Where or how this "disintegration and crumbling to pieces" of the Republican party was going on, this Old Hunker oracle did not deign to inform us;—probably because he did not himself know;—but we should think the Americans of York State, under the guidance of Mr. Jesse C. Lamm and the N. Y. Express, would not be likely to do what is termed a "land office business."

Mrs. Cunningham.—The last news about this lady is that she intends to write her life. A reporter of the New York Times, who appears to make daily calls at her cell, says:

"To an intimation that the fact just related showed that a biography of herself, and particularly an autobiography, would command abundant sale, Mrs. Cunningham replied that a truthful autobiography she believed would be a valuable legacy for her to leave to the world. She felt fully competent to write it, but it would be a story of strange incidents. She said the idea had occurred of itself to her,—but as a relief to the endurance of prison life, she was not certain but she might be inclined to attempt such a work."

LOCAL NEWS.

The Parlor of the Aquidneck House was filled on Friday evening with the guests and their invited friends, assembled to witness a series of twelve Tableaux vivans. Among the illustrations were, "Past, Present, and Future," from Malbones "Hours," "Night and Morning," "Shylocke and Jessica," "The Dull Lecturer," "Amie Page," "Slender and Shallow," and the "Game of Life." Proper attention was paid to the arrangement of light and shade, and the assistance of an artist, a guest of the House, was invaluable in the artistic disposition of the various groups. We understand that Mr. Rider and his assistants spared no pains in the preliminary arrangements, and the fair ladies who appeared in those beautiful "Living Pictures," imparted much pleasure to all present by their newly faultless performance.

Our Devil requests us to say that at noon of Saturday the Mayor and Corporation of this city passed through Thames street in solemn procession in a "one horse chase." To those acquainted with the parties it is superfluous to add that the City Solicitor represented the corporation.

The repairs on Division-street are now nearly completed. They have been substantially made, and will contribute for many years to come, to the comfort and convenience of our citizens.

We learn that to-day, the Second Annual Meeting or Reunion of the Sons of Temperance, of this State, will take place at Portsmouth Grove, a full attendance from all parts of the State is expected.

To-morrow (Tuesday,) the Grand Excursion of the THAMES will take place at Rocky Point. They will be attended by Gilmore's Brass Band; the music of which will almost instil its lively strains into the planks of the Canonicus. Excursion tickets, only 50 cents.

There will be a Hop this (Monday) evening at the Atlantic House.

A NEW WORK.—We understand that Messrs. Wentworth & Co. of Boston, are about publishing a new work entitled THE YOUNG WOMAN'S FRIEND; or THE DUTIES, TRIALS, LOVES AND HOPE OF WOMEN. By Rev. Daniel C. Eddy, of the Harvard Street Church in that city, so widely known as the author of the "Young Man's Friend," "Angel Whispers," and other publications which have had an extensive circulation. Perhaps no writer of our times is so popular among all classes of people as Mr. Eddy, which is no doubt owing to his attractive style and his peculiar talent for rendering the most profound truths intensely interesting by his beautiful and dramatic manner of presenting them to the mind of his readers. We hail therefore a new work from his pen with great satisfaction, and presume that the mission and sphere of woman will be treated on in a strain of eloquence and power that will fascinate both old and young, married and single, mother and daughter.

DASTARDLY ACT.—Late on Saturday afternoon last, some malignant scoundrel placed a stone on the track of the Providence and Worcester Railroad, in such a manner as must inevitably have thrown the train of passenger cars therefrom but for its timely discovery. The stone was bedded in the sand on the inside of the rail so as to strike the flange of the wheels. It was undoubtedly placed there by some one who knew how to make its position the most dangerous, without a probability of its being discovered. The road master, Mr. Spencer, with a gang of hands on a hand car, came out of Providence at an unusual hour, and a few minutes preceding the time of the usual passenger train. The wheel of the hand car struck the stone, and the car was turned nearly over. Mr. S. who was standing up in the front part of the car, was thrown out and received a bad flesh wound on one of his legs by coming in contact with one of the wheels. The stone was placed in the curve near the Comstock place. The company offer one hundred dollars reward for the discovery of the perpetrator of the act.—Pawtucket Chronicle.

LIFE IN PARIS.—An individual has been taken up by the police for creating a disturbance in the house where he resided. It appears that the neighbors had been prevented for some night past from enjoying their rest by the fearful noise which issued at midnight from the rooms inhabited by the prisoner. The police forced open the door and discovered the man dancing about the room and uttering strange words. A work on necromancy was open on the table, while skulls and other objects, supposed to be more or less connected with popular notions of magic, were lying about the room. The man, on being called to account, stated that he had lost money in the Bourse, and was invoking Satan to assist him. In order to corroborate his assertion, he displayed a contract, drawn up in legal form, wherein he consented to sell his soul, in return for certain advantages to be distinctly defined by the purchaser. The man was taken to prison, where his sanity will be carefully tested.

A VETERAN.—The Rev. Daniel Wadsworth, who was sixty-five years of age if he live to the tenth of September next, preached in Slatersville twice last Sabbath. He is vigorous and energetic. The church in Slatersville, was organized by him forty-one years since. Mr. Wadsworth retains his mental faculties in a remarkable degree. He seems like a man of seventy years. In early life he was a soldier in the Revolutionary War, and officiated as Chaplain in the House of Representatives during the sessions of the last Congress.—Woonsocket Patriot.

GENERAL NEWS.

Correspondence of the Daily News.

New York, Aug. 28, 1857.

Mr. Editor.—The absorbing topics here, just now, are the failures of the Mammoth Ohio Life Insurance and Trust Company, and some half dozen brokers, together with eight or ten business establishments in various parts of the city. Some of these latter are clearly enough the fruits of a panic, which will soon blow over.

As for the brokers, their business has so notoriously and thoroughly "gone to seed," in the way of stock gambling, that they are many of them doubtless well entitled to fail at any time. If any part of the public are ignorant of these things, it is high time they were otherwise—and then they might know better than to place their confidence where there is no solid basis to repose it. Three or four banks with Rhode Island names—small concerns, I am told—have been more or less incommodated, if not damaged, by the failure of Mr. Thompson, their redeeming agent in Wall-street.

There is, however, an error widely prevalent as to the potent control exercised over business affairs of the country by the money-kings and money-changers in Wall-street. It is true that they have a good deal of money, and consequently a good deal of power—for money is power! saith the proverb. But, fortunately, the material progress, prosperity and happiness of the American people, are based on a much ampler and more substantial foundation than any or all the money temples of Wall-street. The vast and productive agricultural interest; the mining, manufacturing, mechanical and other industrial pursuits of our broad country, afford a sure and safe reliance for the national prosperity; and though all the banks and brokers' offices in New York, were to topple down to-morrow, with the Custom-house and Sub-Treasury to boot, it would offer but a comparatively slight and temporary check to the broad current of that prosperity.

The death of Mortimer Livingston, a prominent, wealthy and estimable shipping merchant, long engaged in the Havre trade, has produced much feeling in the city. Seldom has New York seen a larger funeral. But a decease which will attract a far wider notice in the world, is that of Rufus Wilmot Griswold, sometimes styled Rev. and D. D.—a strange, eccentric man, of no very extraordinary talent, and but slight worldly means, but who has managed to connect his name, by various links, with the literature and literary individuals of our country.

Mr. Griswold died last evening, at his residence in the Fourth Avenue, after a painful illness of several months. He had been editorially connected with "Graham's Magazine," the "International Magazine," the "New World," newspaper, and other periodicals, and was the author or compiler of the "Poets and Poetry of America," "The Republican Court," and several other works, some of which have had a considerable circulation, and possess a good deal of merit.

Mr. G. was a man of peculiar temperament and disposition, not without strong prejudices, and had the knack of making very bitter enemies. His domestic relations were anything but happy, and though three married, each succeeding match seemed to involve him in new troubles. The Times has a two column notice of Mr. G.'s departure, containing several gross errors, to my certain knowledge. His age is stated at 42.

The Cincinnati papers, I perceive, are confident that no one is going to sustain any ultimate loss by the failure of the Ohio Trust company.

Madam Cunningham, from her safe place in the Tombs, is threatening to throw a bomb-shell into the community in the shape of disclosures, exposures, or something of the sort, the nature of which is not very clearly stated. Probably all smoke. But nobody need doubt that she could make an exposition of the Bond-street tragedy, and its concomitants,—an exposition that would be more exciting and horrid than any tale of love and murder, that ever was devised. Will she do it? Doubtful.

RAMBLER.

MYSTERIOUS AFFAIR.—At Baltimore, on Wednesday afternoon, a boy apparently not more than fourteen years of age, was found by the police lying upon a cellar door. He appeared completely stupefied by liquor or some other drug, and as no one could identify him, on account of his condition, he was placed in a furniture car and taken to the station, where he was locked up in a cell. An hour or two thereafter a strange noise proceeded from the cell, it was opened, and the miserable youth was found stretched upon the floor, dying—the death rattle was in his throat. The lad continued to foam at the mouth, and died at about 8 o'clock.—The body was opened, and a post-mortem examination of the stomach made. No liquor or traces of poison could be discovered therein.

SUNDAY FUNERALS.—The New York Express goes in for abolishing Sunday Brass Band Funerals. It is rather absurd, especially when "the gentleman in the coffin" happens to die on the Monday previous. Heaven save us from being carried to Greenwood on Sunday, in the middle of a procession of red-spirited firemen, musketeers, militia men and machines, with a brass band playing the "Auld Chorus" over our remains.

One of the "boys" of a printing-office was made editor pro tem. In following up a controversy, he says: "As the editor is absent, our statements will be fully credited."

SPECIAL NOTICES.

HEALTHY BREAD.

JAMES PYLE'S

DIETETIC SALERATUS.

IS among the most important improvements of the present day. Every family throughout this land should be acquainted with its intrinsic value, and thereby escape the many evils arising from the use of common Saleratus—the caustic impurities of which are acknowledged destructive to health, by physicians generally. Common Saleratus has the tendency to sour the alkali, and readily acts on the lining of the stomach, thus deranging the digestive organs, and paving the way of Dyspepsia and diseases of every kind. Children are the greatest sufferers, and frequently die from infantile diseases, which in former years, were successfully treated, even without medical aid. But here is an article to be relied on.

James Pyle's Dietetic Saleratus, the result of many experiments, is entirely different from everything heretofore in use. The perfection reached in purifying it, makes it harmless to the stomach as flour itself, while in point of purity it surpasses the best baking soda, and will make bread, biscuits and cake, beautifully light, nutritious, and suitable for the most dyspeptic stomach. Every lady that tries it will use no other.

Beware of Counterfeits.—Our great success has brought out a multitude of imitations. The genuine is packed in whole, half, and quarter packages, with the name of James Pyle on each. Manufacturing Depot, 313 Washington St., New York.

For sale at all the grocers in Newport, Providence and throughout the State. 331
Care Yourself.—There are many who do not like to consult a physician in all cases, and the result often that there has been irreparable injury to health. There is now a necessity for this. Call or send for a bottle of STANFORD'S MIXTURE and take it as directed, and it will not only cure you, but will keep you well as long as you use it. It is a rich vegetable Female Restorative, designed expressly for such cases, and worth its weight in gold. Sent to the address in this city. AMOS PALMER & CO., 213 Westminster st.

SOMETHING NEW EVERY WEEK.

Testimony in favor of Prof. O. J. WOOD'S Hair Restorative Voluntary Certificates, of which one will be published every week.

No. 4.
MOONBRIGHT, February 1, 1856.
Prof. Wood: I commenced the use of your Hair Restorative, March, A. D. 1856. At the time I commenced its use my hair was about two thirds grey or rather white. But by the application of the Restorative, as directed it has resumed its original color, and now presents a beautiful and oily appearance, and what is of more real value to me, my scalp is freed from all disease and disagreeable sensation. Very truly, your obedient servant J. W. DAVISON.

Beware of articles purporting to produce "results similar," as they are only abortive attempts to palm off a miserable article on the popularity of this, under a different name. O. J. ALPINE AIR BALM

FOR

Restoring Gray Hair to its Original Color.

WARRANTED to cure Baldness, Scurf, Dandruff, itching and all diseases of the skin. This Balm gives the scalp a new and healthy action; restores the coloring matter to the roots of the hair, which passes through the hair, and gives it a natural color without the use of Hair Dye.

Hundreds of preparations have been introduced, pretending to regenerate the Hair, and keep it from falling off, composed of Oils, Alcohols and other deleterious materials, and all to no use. Hair Dyes have been introduced that do not give the hair a natural color, besides being troublesome to use. This Balm is not a dye. Knowing that a preparation was needed to do what was required for the Hair the proprietor was induced to experiment until he could obtain an article that would be the exact reverse of the scalp, thereby stopping all further decay. It cured Dandruff, Scurf, and when the Hair has turned gray it will bring it back to its original color, be it Black, Brown or Auburn. It makes the Hair soft and glossy—prevents it from falling out, and will be seen by using this Balm for a few days—hair will be given to the roots of the Hair, and growth will soon appear. Growth does not take place at the end of the hair, as will be seen in persons who have their hair dyed. If you examine gray hair that has been colored for a week, you will find turning towards the roots that the hair has come out gray, hence it is necessary to have the fluid at the roots of the hair healthy, that the whole hair may be a natural color. Each hair has a root in the skin, and is of itself a hollow, gray tube, through which there is a constant circulation of the pigment from the root. When this pigment or coloring matter dies out, it leaves the hair hollow and it becomes gray. To prevent a Balm that will produce this pigment has become the study of the proprietor. The discovery of the Alpine Air Balm will do it. It will bring the Hair to its natural color by making new the coloring matter in the roots of the hair.

It is a mistaken notion that oil or grease will restore the hair, as nothing can be more injurious. The Alpine Air Balm will restore the skin and save the hair of those who have been sickened by fever or any disease.

NEWPORT DAILY NEWS.

A SHIP ASHORE.

SANDY Hook, Aug. 29.—There is another ship ashore at Cranberry Inlet. No particulars as yet.

THE SOUTHERN MAIL.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—We have papers from all points South by the arrival of the mail as late as due.

The Savannah News has later advices from Nassau and Ingua, 2,000 bushels of salt had been raked up to the 1st of August. At Turks Island, 1,000,000 of bushels were on hand, and it was selling at 10 cents per bushel.

RECRUITS FOR NICARAGUA.

Augusta, Ga., Saturday, Aug. 29, 1857.

Handbills are being circulated in Upper Georgia and Tennessee, for Nicaragua troops, who are promised $25 per month, and 250 acres of land.

ANOTHER SUSPENSION.

The New York Tribune says.—We regret to be obliged to announce the suspension of Messrs. Atwood & Co., Bankers, of this city. All the checks since yesterday have been met, and the collection paper is subject to the orders of the owners. Remittances received hereafter will be handed to the Continental Bank to the credit of the remitters.

Feeble churches in New England are becoming more and more abundant. Ex-Gov. Slade says that he knows of ten churches in Vermont which will soon cease to be self-supporting. The Hartford Religious Herald ascribes the cause of this to emigration, and says that if this depopulating, deteriorating process goes on in our country churches for thirty years longer, as it has for ten years last passed, He does not see but that the money which has flowed from East to West to establish churches must come back again; and feeble churches in Vermont, New Hampshire, and even Connecticut, be aided by flourishing wealthy western churches, who owe their existence, under God, to the christian enterprise and benevolence of New England.—New Haven Register.

THE JOHN N. HARRIS.—The wreck of the propeller J. N. Harris has been discovered by a party sent out from New London in search of it. A portion of one of her masts having become detached from the wreck, floated to the surface, which led to the discovery. The stick is still attached to the rigging, which holds it in its place. The wrecking party spliced a pole on to it, and hoisted a white flag, so that the spot can be easily found. Captain Smith, who with some of the owners of the J. N. H., are in town, have sent for the divers, Messrs. Hall and Fox, who are expected to be ready to commence a search for the bodies either to-day or to-morrow.—New Haven Courier.

A CARD TO THE LADIES.

Dr. DROGEE'S Golden Periodical Pills for Females. Perfectly harmless, yet wonderfully and powerfully efficacious in correcting, regulating, and removing all obstruction from whatever cause.

All medical men know, as well as many others, that no female can enjoy good health, unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health begins immediately to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Headache, Pain in the Side, Palpitation of the Heart, Loathing of Food, and Disturbed Sleep, do most always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, the Pills will invariably remedy all these evils; and may always be used successfully as a preventive.

Price $1 per box. For sale at 132 Thames street, corner Church street, and 12 Washington Square, opposite State House, 12 Washington Square, and 12 Washington Square.

For the trade so addressed will be supplied at lowest manufacturer's prices. Ladies, by enclosing $1 to STURGES & CO., 808 N. Y. Post Office, can have the Pills sent (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country.

PARTIAL DEAFNESS.

DISCHARGES FROM THE EAR.

Dr. HARTLEY has to announce to those of his patients who have been in communication, that he has, in compliance with their special requests, made arrangements to establish his Ear Institution in New York; and he generously offers to attend all persons suffering from affections of the Ear, without charge, until cured—thereby proving his success unequalled, and protecting the deaf from being misled, by a self-styled Ear Institute, who, in the name of the deaf, are still more serious evils, by permitting the application of dangerous remedies by inexperienced and unskillful hands.

Dr. H. may here state that he has no connection whatever with any person advertising to cure deafness; neither has he given permission for the publication of a certificate, purporting to emanate from him; and cannot, therefore, be responsible for any alarming consequences resulting from rashness and desperation. The loss of money may not be material to some persons, but the deprivation of such an important of the senses, ought to be regarded and treated with more than ordinary solicitude.

Deafness, noise in the head, and all disagreeable discharges from the Ear, speedily and permanently removed, without causing the least pain or inconvenience. A cure in all cases guaranteed where malformation does not exist.

Thirteen years' close and almost undivided attention to this branch of special practice, has enabled him to reduce his treatment to such a degree of success as to find the most confirmed and obstinate cases yield by a steady attention to the means prescribed.

The destruction, by fire, of the Philadelphia Ear Infirmary, of which Dr. Hartley was the head—having released him from his duties in that city, he has established permanently his Institution, for the exclusive treatment of Ear Diseases, at 760 Broadway, New York.

Consultation and examination each morning.
